A Tonic

HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE.

A most excellent and agreeable tonic and appetizer. It nourishes and invigorates the tired brain and body, imparts renewed energy and vitality and enlivens the functions.

Dr. Ephraim Bateman, CEDARVILLE, N. J., says: "I have used it for several years, not only in my practice, but in my own individual case, and consider it under all circumstances one of the best nerve tonics that we possess. For mental exhaustion or overwork it gives renewed strength and vigor to the entire system."

IF you have not seen the University Minstrels I don't miss your last opportunity next Thursday night. The boys have met with great success here and at Detroit and Ypsilanti. There is no doubt that the Opera House will be crowded again next week at this second appearance of the Minstrels in Ann Arbor. If you want to laugh go to the Minstrel show.

THE formation of a Western College Press Association is certainly to be commended and encouraged by every college journal in the West. The meeting of college editors once or twice a year for an exchange of ideas as to the general management of a college paper and for the fostering of a social spirit among the different boards gives greater zest in the old routine of the home work, and a greater interest in the productions and general make-up of our associated exchanges. The prospects for the success of this newly formed association are bright and promising, and next year we hope to have a rousing convention, with delegates from all the leading college journals of the West.

THE number of improvements that are to be made on and about the campus this summer and next year are many. All of them are very greatly needed and will add much to the appearance and convenience of our beautiful campus. But there is one improvement that could be made which would meet with the happy approval of all students and citizens; and that is a better means of lighting the campus and the various buildings. Why could not several electric lights be placed on the grounds and incandescent lamps in the buildings? This innovation has in fact been talked of by those in authority but no action has ever been taken upon the matter. The lights might be run from dynamos in the physical laboratory and thus the expense be somewhat reduced. As soon as the facilities of the electrical engineering department are increased this plan will certainly prove itself commendable. The brilliantly lighted campus and buildings would present a fine appearance and would also add much to the convenience and safety of all. We trust that this matter may soon demand the attention of the Regents, and that this improvement may be decided upon.

THE playing of our base ball team among the Eastern colleges is certainly worthy of the greatest praise. We are hardly able as yet to give a fair judgement as to the results of the trip, but judging from the scores alone we need have no cause to be ashamed of the work of the entire team. The games have been close and hard fought ones, and the fact that we held Yale down to two runs and those only made by a few phenomenal plays on the part of Yale, shows what material there is in our men. The victories that we have gained have been brilliant ones, and the games we have lost have been no disgrace to us, but rather, victory in defeat, for the all around playing of our nine has, in general, been better than that of our opponents. The general opinion expressed by old professionals who have seen the U. of M. boys play is that they put up the best game ever played for amateurs. We trust that the game with Harvard next Monday will be a close one. The boys however will play at a disadvantage, for they are undoubtedly almost worn out with their week's travelling and playing. However the games may result, the boys should receive a royal welcome home next week. Let everybody turn out at the depot to give the team, on their return, a rousing ovation!

EXAMINATIONS will soon be given to the applicants for the Elisha Jones' scholarship. Since the establishment of this, the first fellowship of the University of Michigan, two years ago, Mr. Herbert De Cou, '88, has been its holder. He has now finished his course of study, and the scholarship will this year be awarded to the classical student passing the most satisfactory examination. The lack of fellowships at this University has been often noticed and commented upon by the press. When we compare our small list of two scholarships with Harvard or Yale's long roll, we rather wonder at the indifferent spirit of those interested in our University. We are lead to ask: Is there after all so much good to be derived from so large a list of fellowships? This question might be made the subject of a long debate, as there are many things to be argued on both sides. Undoubtedly a few fellowships, judiciously granted, are to be commended. They give a poor student a chance to help himself through college. They create a spirit of healthful rivalry and tend to bring out the best work of the student. But it said that this rivalry and scrambling for honors, for honor's sake alone, is foolish and derogatory; that the student does not do his work for the benefit of his own intelligence and knowledge. There is some truth on both sides of the question. The readiness with which our faculty has received these two fellowships that we have, proves that in their estimation a few good scholarships are desirable and we hope that in the near future our small list may be somewhat increased.

THE following paragraph clipped from an exchange gives some excellent suggestions, which we think are worthy of the careful consideration of the faculty and students of every college in the country: "The topics of the day ought to have a prominent place in the work of the colleges. The wonder is that such a course has not been more generally pursued. It is not absolutely necessary that a chair be established in each college, whose sole object shall be the discussion and study of current events with the students. Let each professor, of whatever branch of learning, strive and plan to make the recitations of his class practical, entertaining, and modern in their character, by connecting their dry, ancient, soporific details with the wide-awake and fruitful present. This canal ways be done; and, as a result, the student will not only better retain the contents of the text book but will acquire a valuable knowledge of important current events, and, unconsciously, form his opinions of them. The professor of belles-lettres has an especially fine opportunity in this direction. Let him devote much time to the polite history, rhetoric, poetry, history-making, philology and criticism of to-day. The professors of physics, political economy, psychology, and the various sciences and arts will have no trouble whatever in finding current topics which can be appropriately and profitably studied. In addition to this plan let there be more frequent debates and discussions by the students upon the great questions of the hour, a line of work shamefully and inexcusably neglected. But in addition to the effort on the part of each professor to connect his particular line of work with the problems of the present time, a thoroughly satisfactory and efficient system of such instruction should be regularly established in the college curriculum. This system must be formulated by and entrusted to the professor of journalism, for no other professor can cover the entire ground. His text books are the newspapers. In them are contained current topics, affecting all classes of mankind in all parts of the world. It may be that the dawn of the twentieth century will discover no prominent college in the United States without its appropriate professorship and classes of students able to discuss intelligently and from every point of view the important topics then claiming the attention of the civilized world."

The Palladium will be out week after next.

The Elisha Jones' Fellowship.

Applications for the Elisha Jones' Classical Fellowship will be received by the Examining Board till the sixth of June. Any applicant must have spent at least three semesters in the Academic department of the University, and may be either an undergraduate, candidate for the degree A. B., or a graduate of not more than two years standing, who has taken the degree of A. B. The candidate must have been distinguished for proficiency in Greek and Latin studies in the University and must possess an irreproachable moral character. The Greek and Latin languages and literatures must be the special subjects of study by the holder, although other branches of study may be added as the Board may approve of.

The Fellowship shall be held for ten years, of which the first shall be spent at the University, and the second either here or at some other place deemed favorable for the pursuit of the studies. The holder shall be entitled to five hundred dollars annually. Applicants for appointment should notify the President of their candidacy, stating work done here and if possible, sending some previously prepared essay or dissertation on any subject.

The Art Loan.

The Art Loan in Newberry Hall has been a complete success. The success has not, however, been more than a just reward for the patience, care, and planning of Mr. A. E. Jennings and the ladies of the committee on entertainments, refreshments and arrangements. The collections and arrangement of the various exhibits would have been almost impossible had not the ladies of the various churches kindly co-operated in all that was done. Especial thanks are due to those outside of the city who loaned their pictures, viz: the Detroit Water Color Society, Mr. W. H. Brearley, Senator James McMillan, Mr. H. H. Newberry, Wm. O'Lary & Co., and Russell Alger. The entertainments given by Prof. Hahn, the Chequamegon, Prof. Trueblood, Prof. Pease and the Sappho Club, Prof. Stanley and the Amphion Club, Mrs. Stephens, Prof. Alden, Schremzi's Band, Mr.

Park, Prof. Kempf, and the Glee Club have been well appreciated.

In the German department the most noteworthy objects were portraits of Bismark, Von Moltke and the last three German Emperors, a lot of student caps, a harp once owned by a German Countess of the seventeenth century, a gold snuff box presented to Mr. Sukey's father by the king of Hanover, and some beer mugs.

The Colonial room was full of household articles from 80 to 250 years old. What attracted most attention were the following articles: The first piano sold in Michigan, a plate and chair brought over in the Mayflower, an arithmetic 200 years old, a copy of Dryden's works issued in 1698 with engravings, a shawl worn by the first Mrs. John Jacob Astor, and President Filmere's sword and epaulets.

In the Art room among other excellent works was J. G. Brown's "Boy with Jewsharp," P Meissomer's "Card Players," J. M. Tracy's "The Lamb Pen," Miss M. Knox's "Scene in the Tyrol," and Rosa Bonheur's "Sheep in the Highlands."

In the Bric-a-brac room and the Oriental room were innumerable articles, curious for their great age, delicate workmanship, or foreign manufacture. There were thimbles, Mexican, Japanese, and Chinese dishes, Australian boomerangs, cloth and jewelry until the eye became too weary to distinguish one article from another.

In the G. A. R. room was to be seen not only mementoes of all phases of the late Civil War but also examples of arms and equipment used during the Revolutionary period.

The entire display has been a grand one and the ladies who have had the charge of affairs are to be most warmly congratulated upon their success. Excursions have been run to this city from Detroit and all the surrounding towns for the purpose of visiting the Art Loan. The Newberry Hall fund has been greatly increased and there is now no doubt that the building will be rapidly pushed to completion and will be ready for occupation next October.

Statistics of the S. C. A.

The growth of the Students' Christian Association both in numbers and in interest during the past year has been very encouraging. The outlook for great results from an aggressive, real live work next year is very promising and the newly elected board of officers have the best interests of the association at heart. Newberry Hall will be completed and the advantages for work will be greatly increased.

The following table gives an idea of the strength of the association at the present time. These figures show an increase in membership of 13 per cent., thus proving that the S. C. A. is keeping pace with the increase in the enrollment of the University.

The number of members in the S. C. A. for the years 1889-90 and 1890-91 are as follows:

| | '89-90. | '90-91. |
|---------------------|---------|---------|
| Literary,----- | 226 | 266 |
| Medical,----- | 98 | 92 |
| Law,----- | 30 | 36 |
| Dental,----- | 18 | 16 |
| Homeopathical,----- | 17 | 22 |
| Pharmacy,----- | 12 | 22 |
| Total, | 401 | 454 |

Owing to a misplacement of copy last week the publication of the new list of officers for next year was overlooked. The following officers were elected:

President, C. P. McAllaster; vice-presidents, general, C. A. Bowen and Miss M. Hubbard; literary department, H. H. Walker and Miss K. V. Ilgenfritz; medical, F. P. Waples and Miss E. H. Wheeler; law, W. F. Wanless and J. A. Bolard; dental, F. J. Boll and Miss May Weston; homeopathical, A. L. Pollard and Miss A. B. Dillon; pharmacy, L. A. Seltzer; recording secretary, Wm. Blair; assistant, Miss P. O. Wies; corresponding secretary, Miss F. L. Bishop; treasurer, A. J. Ladd; missionary treasurer, D. F. Wilcox; assistant, A. E. Powell; chorister, W. A. Cutler; assistant, H. H. Loveland; librarian, F. D. Green.

Western College Press Association.

Last Saturday morning nearly twenty delegates representing thirteen college papers met in the parlors of the Palmer House, Chicago, for the purpose of forming an inter-collegiate press association. The amount of interest and enthusiasm shown at this first meeting was very encouraging and there is no doubt that this organization will make itself felt in raising the standard of all our Western college papers.

The following delegates were present at this first convention: William Farris, S. P. Johnston, Northwestern World, Evanston, Ill.; Oliver W. Stewart, C. T. Spitler, Pegasus, Eureka College, Ill.; A. W. Newlin, Earlhamite, Richmond, Ind.; H. C. Schalter, Chronicle, Northwestern College, Ill.; L. C. Williams, Kenyon Collegian, Kenyon, Ohio; A. R. Priest, Bema, De Pauw University, Ind.; W. E. Danforth, L. E. Zimmerman, F. C. Sharon, Stentor, Lake Forest University, Ill.; Smith Burnham, Pleiad, Albion, Mich.; Charles Kiler, C. A. Shamel, Illini, University of Illinois; T. H. Ryan, H. A. Heyn, Ægis, University of Wisconsin; Ralph Stone, U. of M. Daily, Charles B. Warren, Inlander, and Paul Mossman, CHRONICLE-ARGONAUT, University of Michigan.

The first session of the convention was held in the forenoon and the business necessary for organization was transacted. William Farris, of the Northwestern World was made temporary chairman, and Smith Burnham, of the Albion Pleiad, temporary secretary. A committee of three was appointed by the chair to draft a constitution. The constitution recommended was adopted article by article with but few changes. The Western College Press Association was now actually in existence and the convention proceeded to the election of the following officers: President, Ralph Stone, U. of M. Daily, University of Michigan; vice-president, William Farris, Northwestern World, Northwestern University, Illinois; secretary and treasurer, Clarence T. Spitler, Pegasus, Eureka College, Illinois; executive committee, A. R. Priest, Bema, De Pauw University, Indiana; Ralph Stone, U. of M. Daily; T. H. Ryan, Ægis, University of Wisconsin; A. W. Newlin, Earlhamite, Earlham College, Indiana; L. C. Williams, Kenyon Collegian, Kenyon College, Ohio.

The following journals applied for membership and were admitted: Adelbert, Adelbert College, Cleveland, Ohio, and Collegium Forense, Des Moines College, Iowa. The application of the Moore's Hill Collegian was referred to the executive committee for investigation.

The afternoon session convened at 1:30 o'clock

The following interesting and instructive papers were read: "Newsy Features in a College Journal," W. E. Danforth, Stentor, Lake Forest University; "College Journalism in Ohio," L. C. Williams, Kenyon Collegian, Ohio; "The College Paper of To-day," S. P. Johnson, Northwestern World; "College Journalism in General, and that at De Pauw in Particular," A. R. Priest, De Pauw Bema; "The College Daily," Ralph Stone, U. of M. Daily.

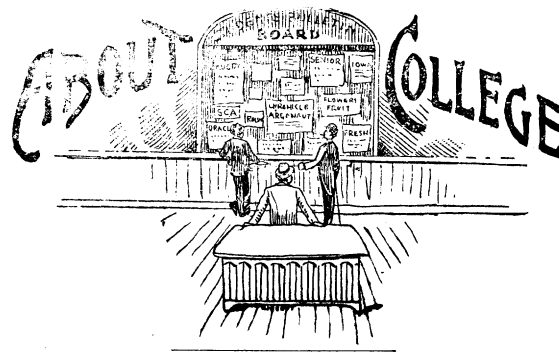

A general discussion followed these papers, after which the convention was adjourned to meet at such time and place as the executive committee may decide upon. We hope to see at the next meeting the number of delegates more than doubled and all the principal college papers of the West members of the W. C. P. A.

SNAP SHOTS.

The Art Loan exhibit which is being held at the Newberry Hall building is an excellent place for a student of human nature. To watch attentively the various visitors and their various attitudes of mind, gives one an exquisite pleasure. The range is wide, and the field large, for a collection which goes from a Dutch interior, painted by Gavi Melchers, to the Duchess of Somerset's laces or a colonial bedstead, must needs present charms for people of a wide diversity of taste. The rustic who has been the victim of some excursion scheme gapes about in wonderment, abashed by what he sees. The old veteran does not pause until he has climbed the winding stair and revelled in the delights of the G. A. R. room. There you may find him reminiscently stroking his beard, as he relates some thrilling story of the war. The law student may be seen with his inevitable white lawn tie and wide expanse of linen. He is generally civilized in appearance but he needs watching when he gets near the delicate China ware. The student from the halls of medicine is not a frequent visitor, but when he comes he generally takes up his position on the steps, from which vantage ground naught escapes his eagle eye. And everywhere are to be found the susceptible, yielding young men, resplendent in light vests and trousers, who are willing to buy rose buds fresh or wilted, or anything else when entreated by the fair damsels who know so well, after long years of experience, how to start the shining cartwheels arolling from his pockets. It matters not whether it be the butterfly freshman who is trying his society wings for the first time, or the indifferent senior who does not know so much, all fall a victim to the wiles of the flower sirens.

And everywhere are tripping maidens, some labeled "Bric-a-Brac," and some, not all of them, with pleasing mien, but all with money on the brain. They show you conclusively that you need a hand painted catalogue when you go to the art room. They lure you to destruction in the room where ices bloom and are ever on the lookout for the innocent and unwary. To respond to all the appeals made would exhaust the gym. fund and exceed the amount lost on the Vermont game.

Up to date this year there have been 1012 patients in the University hospital, as compared with 989, the total for the whole of last year. Last week in one day six patients were turned away for lack of room. This shows first the need of a new hospital and second that Ann Arbor can secure enough clinical material, as well as Detroit.

The Athletic Association has posted notices near the clay courts that they are to be reserved for members wearing badges. The constitution and by-laws are being printed, together with a list of members, so that those who have lost their tickets will be able to refer to this list when a ticket is demanded. Attention should be given to one of the courts, as the clay has broken up in several places, making the surface irregular.

The secretary of the board of directors of the University of Chicago states that 300 applications for admission to the University have been received by him already. He estimates that it will open with at least 800 students. These prospects have induced the board to ask for more money for buildings from the people of Chicago. One architect is making plans for the whole.

THE BASE BALL TEAM EAST.

Hamilton College.

The first of the games in the East was played at Utica, N. Y. with Hamilton College and resulted in an easily won victory for the Michigan men, the score being 18 to 3. Latham, the old Louisville player umpired the game and pronounced the playing of our team the best amateur work he had ever seen. Codd struck out eleven men and was found for only four hits. His running, batting and playing in the infield were alike phenomenal. Booth made a fine catch of a liner in centre. Pearson distinguished himself by base running, Bauer by batting and the whole team by a practically errorless game. The result is below:

At University of Vermont.

The tale there was not so gratifying. The score 2 to 6 in favor of Vermont recorded the first defeat of the season for Michigan. Robinson and Walsh were the battery. The score was 2 to 1 in favor of Michigan at the end of the seventh inning, but in the eighth five successive base hits were made by the Vermonters, and four runs scored. Another score in the ninth completed the catastrophe. It is said that five members of the Vermont team are hired to play ball. If so they were earning their money Monday for they played with a vengeance. The following is the score:

This organization will make its last appearance this season, next Thursday evening at the Grand Opera House. Since the Detroit engagement several new features have been added to the program in the way of songs and dances.

The Detroit engagement was highly successful from every standpoint and the entertainment was pronounced the best ever given by amateurs in that city. Sale of seats for Thursday evening June 4th, opens at 2 p. m. Monday at Chas. Speller's, State Street.

The ladies of the Art Loan say that the exhibition will net the S. C. A. fund at least $2,000.

We are told that the students at the college for the blind, Worchester, Mass., play cricket splendidly. A bell is placed within the ball.—Ex.

TO—— ASKING FOR MY PHOTOGRAPH IN RETURN FOR HER OWN.

The likeness you have sent me
Will quickly fade;
Mere paper, with the tracings
Of sun and shade.

Nor will I mourn the day when I with it must part—
Is not your fair face graven forever on my heart?

The picture that you ask me
I would not send,
Dust-covered in a corner
Would be its end.

Is your own heart so crowded that you no place can spare?

What profits any photograph if there I have no place? —Columbia Spectator.

“They both to church together went
On devotion doubtless bent,
The preacher preached quite fervently
On Saducee and Pharisee.
As they together homeward walked
They both upon the sermon talked,
Said he to her, “Why, don't you see,
We're Pharisee and Saducee.”
She turned on him her great blue eyes,
With one soft look of vexed surprise.
He quickly hastened to aver
He was her ardent worshiper.
Said he to her, “Why, don't you see,
You are the only fair I see;
And since you can never love me,
'Tis that that makes me sad, you see.” —Ex.

The alumni of Wesleyan University have decided by a vote of 341-311 to change the name of that institution.

The general importance of college fraternities is emphasized by their growth in almost all the colleges in the country in the last seven years. We learn from Baird's Fraternity Guide, the fourth edition of which has just appeared, that the membership of general fraternities, aside from the professional fraternities and the sororities, increased from 67,941 in 1883 to 92,279 in 1890. * * * Mr. Baird advances an original thought in regard to fraternity club houses. He thinks that the various club houses may become to the American University what the colleges are to the English University. They will be richly endowed, have tutors and professors and relieve the University of lodging the students and giving them undergraduate instruction. Whatever may come in the evolution of the educational system of this country we predict for the fraternities increased growth and usefulness. —Exchange.

LITERARY NOTES.

The Magazine of American History closes its twenty-fifth volume with an admirable June issue. The picture of Columbus with which it opens is said to be one of the best and most authentic likenesses of the great navigator extant. The first article of the number, uniquely illustrated, touches a colossal theme in the happiest and most informing manner. It is entitled, "Glimpses of the Railroad in History," and one need only add that it is by the gifted editor of the magazine to insure it a warm and appreciative welcome. The second paper, "The Slave Insurrection in Virginia in 1831, known as 'Old Nat's War,'" by Prof. Weeks, of Johns Hopkins University, presents some thrilling sketches of a terrible massacre but little known to the world." "British Merchants in 1775," by Walter R. Benjamin; and "Some Rare Old Books," by A. R. Fulton, are both readable and valuable contributions. The paper, however, which cannot fail to attract widespread attention, is entitled, "Distinguished Germans in American Affairs," ably written by Dr. Oscar Braun, of Chicago, forcibly showing how the American intellect evinced in letters and politics has been augmented by these German patriots and scholars.

The complete novel for the June number of Lippincott's Magazine is entitled "Gold of Pleasure," by that popular writer, George Parsons Lothrop. It is a tale of love and adventure, with scenes that shift from the quiet surroundings of a New England seaport town to Ceylon. Edgar Fawcett contributes a capital character sketch of a literary man, under the title of "A Literary Pet." There is also a delightful story entitled "Sonny" by Mary E. Wilkins, whose charming stories of New England village life, have made her a favorite among magazine readers. The series of "Familiar Letters," by Horace Greeley is concluded in this number. The last of which is quite pathetic, written, but a few days after the writer was defeated at the polls—"So many old friends," he writes, "hate me for what I have done, that life seems too hard to bear."—A few days after this Mr. Greeley died. This series of letters will doubtless prove of great value to the future biographer of the great editor. One of the most noteworthy articles of this number is a sketch by Mrs. Lucy C. Lillie, of "Alexandra, Princess of Wales." It is replete with anecdotes and interesting details. An article describing a trip to Alaska and the beauties of its mountains and valleys is contributed by Grace Peckham, M. D. "The College Settlement," by Hester Dorsey Richardson, tells of an institute which is doing a great work among the slums of New York City. It was founded by a few college girls, for the purpose of carrying on practical missionary work among the poorer classes. Now where there is so much talk about what should be done for the poor, a history of this practical effort towards a solution of the problem must excite much interest.

The June number of the Cosmopolitan presents some unusually fine attractions in the way of light summer reading. Its articles are profusely illustrated and the reputation of the magazine in this line is well sustained. The personal element especially characterizes the spirit of this number. The frontispiece is a portrait of Madame de Pompadour, and pertains to a bright sketch of a summer spent in the home of that famous woman, by Amelia Rives and her guests. Miss Julia Magruder, the writer, was one of those guests. The instantaneous photographs which accompany this article give one a few glimpses of the beauty and elegance surrounding the delightful home. A pleasant article on the Japanese beauties is given by Henry T. Finch. The art article of the month describes the work of that celebrated artist Gustave Doré. Thomas B. Connery, formerly managing editor of the New York Herald, gives interesting reminiscences of the first work of Stanley for that journal, and of his neighbor, Thomas A. Edison. This article proves of interest to all students who are about to make a start in the journalistic field. S. G. W. Benjamin, ex-Minister to Persia, gives us a story of Oriental life in telling us the tale of Noah Mahal, the Light of the Harem, celebrated by Thomas Moore in Lallah Rookh. The people who write for periodicals will find matter of great interest in an article by Mr. Frank Howard Howe, for some time one of the editors of a New York monthly. Mr. Howe gives his personal experiences of the manuscripts of the "Great Unpublished," and offers much advice that will be found useful.

A MECHANICAL WONDER. The Decoration Day issue of the Albany N. Y., Telegram will be the most original, unique and popular paper ever presented to the American public. Nothing like it ever attempted by a newspaper in the nineteenth century. As a mechanical wonder and a military literary library there will be nothing to even compare with it issued in this country. It will be printed on red, white and blue paper and consist of sixteen pages. If there is no agent in your town you can have the paper mailed to you at 5 cents a copy.

FOOTPRINTS OF THE WORLD'S HISTORY: It is a relief to pick up a new book that is at once thrilling, romantic, wholesome, pure, and true. Such a work is "Footprints of the World's History," the latest and greatest work of the two celebrated historians, John Clark Ridpath and Wm. S. Bryan. These distinguished gentlemen, having won their laurels by independent writings, have co-operated on this work, and produced a gem "of the purest ray serene." It is not a dry uninteresting statement of the plain facts, but rather each of the most important events of history has been taken up and described by a master of language, who holds the reader entranced as he wends his way along the path of history, following carefully in the footprints of progress. We are delighted with this superb volume. Perfect in thought, superb in style, and magnificent in execution. The bindings are sumptuous, as are also the many illustrations and colored plates. The Publishers have rightly concluded that such a gem should have a rich setting. It is a valuable addition to literature. It is a book for the old as well as the young; the married as well as the single; the gay as well as the grave. Everybody will read it with equal eagerness and profit. It is sold only through agents, and the Publishers' advertisement appears in another column.

FIELD DAY!

A Large Number of Events.
Over 800 Entries. The Best Field Day ever
Held at the U. of M.

This afternoon a large and enthusiastic crowd assembled at the Fair Grounds to see the events of the spring Field Day. The day was all that could be desired, the weather fine and the tracks in excellent condition. This was certainly the most satisfactory Field Day that has been held for many years. The number of entries was very large and the contests close and exciting. The records made are excellent ones. They show the results of good, systematic training. The work of Mr. Murphy has proven to be of great benefit in making a Field Day one worthy of the name. The contests of this afternoon lacked that tiresome monotony and long waiting heretofore so conspicuous. Everything went off with a vim and a rush and the Athletic association deserves praise for their efficient management of the program.

A RECORD AT MADISON.

The Aegis of the University of Wisconsin gives the time of the winner of the 100 yards dash at their Field Day sports as 10 seconds. There was some dispute, however, as to this excellent record, one of the judges giving the time as 9 1-2 seconds, while the other gave it as 10 1-2 seconds. To the satisfaction of all parties the average was taken and the hero walked off with a 10 second record.

Now if only the excellent management of athletics at Madison could arrange it to fix the watches of all the judges, a happy average might be struck by which Madison could make herself famous and hold several inter-collegiate records to her credit. Such management of field sports is certainly to be reprimanded and discountenanced by all fair minded persons.

ROBINSON AND ABBOTT OUR BATTERY.

On account of rain yesterday at Middletown, Conn., the game with Wesleyan was postponed until this forenoon. The grounds were still wet and muddy when the boys went to bat at 10 o'clock this morning, but, nevertheless, a good game was put up by both nines. Robinson and Abbott formed the Michigan battery.

After three very close games, of which we are by no means ashamed although we lost, this victory brings us encouragement and we hope by a good rest Sunday to put up an excellent game with Harvard. This afternoon the game with Trinity at Hartford, Conn., is being played.

Debt and Love.

One small request I make of him who rules the powers above,
That I were truly out of debt as I am out of love.
Then for to sing, to dance and play I should be very willing;
I should not owe one lass a kiss nor e'er a knave a shilling.
'Tis being in debt and being in love that rob us of our rest,
And he that's truly out of both of all the gods is blest.

—Sir John Suckling.

The Inevitable.

I like the man who faces what he must
With step triumphant and a heart of cheer;
Who fights the daily battle without fear;
Sees his hopes fail, yet keeps unfaltering trust
That God is God; that somehow, true and just,
His plans work out for mortals. Not a tear
Is shed when fortune, which the world holds dear,
Falls from his grasp. Better with love a crust
Than living in dishonor; envies not,
Nor loses faith in man, but does his best,
Nor ever murmurs at his humbler lot,
But with a smile and words of hope gives zest
To every toiler. He alone is great
Who by a life heroic conquers fate.
